

Cuba Portable Intelligent Mixer Power Supply

Overview

Do you need a 'voltage converter' in Cuba?

While the electrical current in Cuba can be both 110v AC (the same as in the U.S.) or 220v AC, most gadgets used today including smart phone chargers, lap tops, hair dryers, and more are dual-voltage, which means you will not need a bulky and expensive 'voltage converter', which is different from your electrical adapter.
