

Greece Energy Storage Power Supply Procurement Project

Overview

What are Greece's energy storage projects?

The projects are: Project Dokos in Rodopi, with a license of 8.875 MW for two hours, offering an initial installed usable capacity of 25.065 MWh. Greece has cancelled its third large-scale energy storage auction, after a lack of understanding over its rules on power capacity limits.

How many mw can a company invest in energy storage in Greece?

The Regulatory Authority for Energy, Waste and Water (RAAEY) completed the selection process in the first energy storage auction in Greece. According to the terms of the auction, each participant could apply with a maximum of 100 MW. Three companies divided it into separate investments.

Does Greece have a battery storage subsidy program?

Greece's latest auction has awarded subsidies to 188.9 MW of standalone, front-of-the-meter, utility-scale battery energy storage. The auction was the third and final edition of a battery storage subsidy program launched in 2023, with the country now turning its focus towards a new 4.7 GW unsubsidized BESS scheme.

Will Greece allocate 1 GW of new energy storage capacity?

RAAEY – Greece's newly formed regulatory authority for waste, energy, and water – has revealed that the country will allocate 1 GW of new energy storage capacity. The program consists of three separate auctions, with capacities of 400 MW, 300 MW, and 300 MW.

When is the first energy storage auction open in Greece?

The application process for the first auction, which involves 400 MW of energy storage, will be open until July 10. RAAEY – Greece's newly formed regulatory authority for waste, energy, and water – has revealed that the country will allocate 1 GW of new energy storage capacity.

Why did Greece cancel a large-scale energy storage auction?

The energy regulator in Greece has cancelled the country's third large-scale energy storage procurement auction due to confusion over limits on how much power capacity could be bid in per participant, with a view to relaunching the scheme. The Regulatory Authority for Energy, Waste, and Water (RAAEY) announced the decision last week (13 December).
