How do I choose the best home solar panels?

When it comes to choosing the best home solar systems, understanding the types of solar panels available is crucial. There are three main types: monocrystalline, polycrystalline, and thin-film. Each has its own benefits and drawbacks in terms of efficiency, durability, and cost. Monocrystalline panels are made from a single, pure silicon crystal.

What equipment do you get when you go solar?

A lot more goes into a solar panel system than the panels themselves. Here's a quick list of the equipment you get when you go solar: Solar battery (optional): Stores excess electricity for use later on. Not sure which equipment brand is right for you?

See our top picks: Should you get a battery?

Batteries aren't for everyone.

How do I get a great deal on solar panels?

The best way to get a great deal on your solar panel system is to compare quotes based on cost, equipment, and installer reputation. Historically, many solar shoppers only received one solar quote from a door-to-door salesperson or a cold call. But how can you feel confident in your solar decision if you only see one quote?

Why do homeowners need solar energy?

Homeowners with solar panels and energy storage systems can protect themselves from power outages. Solar with battery backup ensures that essential appliances continue running during extreme weather conditions and grid disruptions. Additionally, solar energy reduces dependence on fossil fuels, mitigating the impact of future energy cost spikes.

Can you buy a solar energy system with a mortgage?

New homeowners can add solar as part of their mortgage with loans available through the Federal Housing Administration , which allow borrowers to include financing for home improvements in the home's purchase price. Buying a solar energy system makes you eligible for the Solar Investment Tax Credit, or ITC.

Should you buy solar panels online?

Only certified installers have access to brands like Maxeon and REC through wholesale distributors; solar panels for sale online are often of lesser quality and best for small, off-grid applications like an RV, boat, or tiny home. 2.
